Copenhagen, November 5.

BY the four Posts at last arriv'd from Norway, we understand that the Swedes have quitted their late Camp, which was but two Leagues distant from Drontheim, and retir'd at once to Werdahl, Shongen, and Stordhal, on the North Side of the River, six Leagues from Drontheim, where we have two Forts, named the Steen, and the Scyne. They had a Design to have pass'd the River, to enable them to approach Drontheim, and for that purpose they had pull'd down all the Country Houses thereabouts, to make use of the Timber of them for building Bridges and Floats. But no sooner were they built, than the Storms carry'd them away and destroy'd them; which gave Time to Major General Budde to finish the Works, the Block houses, and the Batteries, which he caus'd to be rais'd round about Drontheim, principally on the River side; and to break up all the Passages and Avenues. Their Army consisted of 4000 Horse, and 7000 Foot, besides a great Number of sick and wounded. The principal Officers who commanded them, are Charles Gustavus Ahrenfeld Commander in Chief, Lieuten-Général de la Gardie, Majors-General Vittinghoff, Ongeldt, Ziegen, Horn, Ribbin-gen, and Meyden, each commanding his own Regiment. Major General Horn was kill'd by a Cannon Bullet near Steen, and buried at Stuckfield. A Swedish Deserter reports, that they expect a Reinforcement of 5000 Men.

In an Attack which ours made on the 1st of October, in the flat-bottom Boats and Shaloups, we kill'd 40 of the Enemy. On the 4th they quitted Stordhal, and retir'd with all their Forces to Schongen. What oblig'd them to retire, and to encamp far from one another, was the want of Provisions; all the Mills having been destroy'd in the Villages where they encamp'd, so that they had only Barley to subsist on, which, added to the painful and precipitate Marches which they have been forc'd to, has bred a Bloody Flux in their Army, which carries off a great many; and that the Number of them may not be known, they bury the Corps upon the Spot immediately, besides which, 'tis known, that on the 23d of September they buried in the Church-yard of Werne's 84 Officers, Commission'd and Subalterns.

We hear by Letters from Drontheim of the 11th of October, that the Succours expected from Christiania were arriv'd within a Day's Journey of Drontheim, and the Enemy being still posted at Schongen, General Budde attack'd them daily, both by Water and by Land: And to that purpose had detach'd 12 Parties, one whereof commanded by Major Lund had already brought in Prisoners, 2 Captains, 3 Sergeants, 1 Corporal, 2 Drummers, and 49 private Soldiers. The Number of Defectors and Prisoners are so great, that 100 of them are already sent to Christiania to save the Provisions at Drontheim. A good Succour is also come from Island by the Ships return'd from thence. As soon as the Succours are all come together, General Budde will endeavour to attack the Enemy in such maner as to oblige them intirely to quit this part of Norway; which they cannot do without a very considerable Loss.

London, November 8.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Nov. 15.

Vienna, Nov. 2. 'Tis talk'd here, that the Duke of Savoy has, contrary to all Expectation, of a sudden declar'd by his Minister, that he is ready to enter into the Quadruple Alliance, and that it came on in the following Manner. That the Emperour having let the Marquis de St. Thomas (the Duke of Savoy's first Minister) know, that if he had nothing further to propose on the Part of his Master, than what he had hitherto done, he might depart, and that otherwise his Imperial Majesty would recall the Passport he had granted him. Hereupon the said Marquis went to Prince Eugene of Savoy, and besought him to intercede in the present Conjunction with the Emperour, who seem'd to be offend'd. To which his Highness answered, That the Emperour is a Monarch who governs himself, and that this Matter could not have gone so far, if he had not determin'd in his Mind what to do; that he always stands to what he has resolv'd upon till he has compleated what he purposes, and therefore none of his Ministers dare speak to him upon it; and all the Service he could do, was to advise the Duke of Savoy to come into the Quadruple Alliance. Whereupon the said Marquis produc'd a full Power, which authoriz'd him to enter in his Master's Name, into that Alliance; but that he was not to make use of it till the utmost Extremity, & to give an Account of what had pass'd; and the Marquis de St. Thomas immediately sent away an Expr. to his Court, to give Notice of this, and to desire further Instructions. And we now expect to see suddenly a Minister residing here on the part of that Court. It is very confidently reported, that the Princess Sobieski will be brought hither in a Day or two from Tyrol, and be put into the Sr. Lawrence Nunnery; but in regard this would be very disagreeable to the Empress Mother, the Truth of that Report is much doubted. An Officer arriv'd here from the Viceroy of Naples, has brought Advice that some Thousands Imperialists have been transported from the Kingdom of Naples to Sicily, and landed at Melazzo, which City is made a Place of Arms; as also that the British Admiral Byng will Winter with part of his Fleet in the Haven of Melazzo, to endeavour to cut off as much as possible the Spanish Transports from Sardinia.

Ratisbon, Nov. 7. Yesterday we received the welcome News from Vienna, that the Duke of Savoy's first Minister, the Marquis de St. Thomas, after many Endeavours to avoid it, and to endeavour to get the Conditions, on the 29th pass'd, by Order of his Master, enter'd into the Quadruple Alliance. The King of Prussia has last Week by Writing, charg'd his Envoy to enter into Negotiation with the other Evangelical Envoy, to hinder the Administration of the Bishoprick of Naumburg being held by the Electoral House of Saxony, which ought to be restored to the Duke of Saxe Zeitz, now his Highness is return'd to the Lutheran Religion. And 'tis expected that a Declaration of this will be made in a Week's Time.

Paris, Nov. 7. We daily see new Mandates from Bishops, Prelates, and Religious Orders, who adhere to the Council of Constance, & Nominees and Electors, appealing from the Pope's Constitution to a future General Council. The Archibishop of Bourdeaux has lately, in a large Company publickly declared, that there are now at least 60 Prelates, that either have already, or would speedily come into the same Adhesion. 'Tis laid also, that there are several Bishops, who out of a Spirit of Moderation affect to forbear adhering to the said Appeal, keeping them in Suspence for the present, who will however in the End join with the Appellants. We hear from Meek, that the Parliament has pass'd an Arrêt like that of the Parliament of Paris, whereby the Procureur General has been received in his appealing from the Apostolick Letters published at Rome the 8th of September last. Some Letters from Madrid say, that the Eldest Infante Don Philip, is in so weak a State of Health, that he is not look'd upon to be long liv'd. It is strongly reported, that the Superintendency of the Finances will be given again to M. Desmarest, as in the Time of the late King, and that it is even done by the Advice of the Keeper of the Seal himself, who has at present the chief Hand in that Administration.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated Nov. 15.

Paris, Nov. 7. The Report that was spread some Days ago, that Troops were march'd towards the Frontiers of Spain, is now renew'd and spoken with such Assurance that there seems no reason to doubt it. 'Tis even added, that the Generals are already named who are to command them, and also that Orders are given to prepare a Train of Artillery for the Service of those Troops. The Publick Entry of the Earl of Stairs is put off to the End of this Month, by Reason that his Equipage is not quite ready.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Nov. 15.
